JOHNNY BRADFORD

Gayboy's Gaymate of the Month

The summer and fall of 1970 will never be forgotten, as it was the most exciting in all my eighteen years. My name, Troy McDonald. I guess you might say my occupation was that of a professional model. And this has given me the opportunity to travel throughout most of the United States, and Canada.

This past summer started off with a real bang, the 4th of July at a place in Sunset Beach, California named the Stable . . . Bob, the manager, was sure a wonderful host, and really has a way with the kids. It was mostly a very young crowd, and I really look forward to getting back there this winter . . . From the Stable we headed up to Big Bear, ten thousand feet up in the mountains. Wow, what a weekend, boating, swimming and parties . . .

Well I knew it was too good to be true. About that time the boss man decided it's time to go to work on our new project, GAYBOY . . . And he decided Texas was the place, and HOUSTON was the town, and, wow, was he ever right. First place we hit was a place called Scene 1. Spent most of the evening on the pool table, and drinking Seven Up. Met Ron, the owner, and he really made us feel welcome to Houston. From there Ron took us as his guests to what must be the most fantastic club in the world. At least, I've never seen the likes of it.

The club was in a building called the 3400 Building on Montrose, and we boarded the express elevator that carries you eleven floors to the Palace Club penthouse terrace, a breathtaking experience, overlooking the beautiful city of Houston. I never met so many people so fast in all my life. We were greeted at the door by one of the staff, a real nice kid named Larry. He took me from table to table and bartender to boss until I had met Ron, another Ron and still another Ron. Then I met Jack, and it was Jack that first introduced me to Johnny Bradford. It seemed as though Johnny and I had known each other all our lives. Johnny, like myself, had just turned eighteen, and was really living it up . . .

Johnny and I walked out on to the sky terrace and sat at the Carrosel Bar, and walked over by the fountain. This was certainly to be one big day. From the terrace we went off to look at the giant Halloween trophy that was to be given away on that occasion, and then, off to the quiet bar, which was like going from one club to another. It was there Johnny and I toasted to a new friendship, and I think we must have toasted that all afternoon, even though it was only Seven Up. From there Johnny invited me to see his apartment, and now, you can guess . . .

PENIS ENLARGER

Methods of enlarging and stimulating the male penis have been reported in medical literature for over a hundred years. Even in the Nineteenth Century, experiments were recorded that pertained to growth of the penis as well as stimulating and massaging. This knowledge, once considered pornographic, was not widespread; but recent changes in Supreme Court rulings have released many books and appliances pertaining to improving marital sex relations.

Available medical, surgical and orthopedic appliances were researched by ECOM, Inc., and by using modern technology, ECOM has incorporated the most desirable features into their Marital Rigid-Aide. The Rigid-Aide is a device used prior to intercourse and is designed to: 1. Immediately enlarge the penis, 2. Cause a firm erection, 3. Prolong intercourse, and 4. Increase sensitivity of the penis.

The Marital Rigid-Aide is a high-quality machine. It is manufactured with lightweight, shatterproof, highly durable materials and is easy to keep clean and sanitary. ECOM, Inc. is a Texas corporation which was formed to research and manufacture in fields other than in sex aids, but was made aware of this technique while researching various body building equipment. An overwhelming interest in our experiments has caused us to offer our product to the public. It has now been thoroughly tested and is proving helpful to many couples through difficult phases of their personal relations. Some wives are even buying these for their husbands.

Men of various ages have tested the Marital Rigid-Aide with varied results. Nearly all have been pleased to have a larger penis, both in length and in diameter. Older men have been extremely excited about being able to have an immediate erection, even those who thought that intercourse was no longer possible. Others have reported that their penis had become so sensitive that they had actually experienced two orgasms on the same erection.

The New Gay Liberation Front for Houston

by L.E.J.

Recently organized is Houston's own GLF. Feeling that it's about time gay people unite, a group of concerned people are trying to get it together, and form a voice for Houston homosexuals . . . a voice that will speak out to the straight world whenever necessary, without subjecting members to harassment and/or blackmail.

The voice will also be of the majority, in lieu of some news articles now distributed locally . . . Most Houston gay people are familiar with the recent harassment by the H.P.D. and the GLF is already taking steps to prevent recurrences in the future . . . The GLF is also requesting stands on homosexual rights by political candidates on all sides . . . For information on your organization, write GLF, P.O.
